[Targeted deletion of p53 gene in ovarian cancer cell line A2780/cp70]. To investigate the apoptosis induction and growth inhibition in A2780/cp70 cells by targeted deletion of p53 gene. A total of 6 clones of A2780/cp70 cells, with p53 gene deleted by homologous recombination in gene replacement strategy, were generated. The p53 protein expression was detected by Western blot and DNA binding of p53 was analyzed by electrophoretic mobility shift assay (EMSA). The apoptosis in these clones was analyzed by terminal transferase dUTP nick end labeling (TUNEL) and Annexin V-FITC/PI staining. Compared to A2780/cp70 and A2780 cells, p53 protein expression was lost in all the 6 clones, but the DNA binding activity of p53 was detected in 5 of them. The apoptosis was induced in all the 6 clones as evidenced by the TUNEL positive cells and Annexin V positive cells. In addition, the growth of 6 clones was inhibited by 34.5% - 93.2%, which was similar to the inhibition of
